

ASWEX projects

... are research and development plans that (temporarily or generally) run beyond formatted contributions to projects of other responsible bodies, or prepare such latter ones, and are conducted or lead by ASWEX members in charge. These projects are largely determined by their own current scientific interests as displayed at this page. In the design of ASWEX projects, value is set on the definition of interfaces both between these themes und for external cooperation.